2017 Tax Cut and Jobs Act

industry changing regulation

With the close of 2017 came sweeping tax legislation passed by Congress that looks to positively impact the tax treatment of proceeds from life settlement transactions.

The new law reverses IRS Ruling 2009-13 and rectifies the flawed policy for taxation of life settlement proceeds.

"The reform enacted this week means that people who sell their life insurance policies will now receive the same IRS tax treatment as those who surrender their policies, eliminating an IRS burden that may have discouraged many seniors from exploring a life settlement transaction." - LISA.org
